“ He was a true blessing to have around!! Always cheerful;unfortunately not not on the inside, went out of his way to make everyone smile!!!
God let him rest in your arms and find peace and comfort and the acceptance he truly longed for..... be still nolan and know God has you now!!!

“ I will never forget how he always smiled when he came to work and always made me smile to. We always had fun when he was around even if we were having a bad day it always got better when he came in cause he would make sure of it.
If he decided he didn't want to do his side work it seems we could never get upset about it since he always made it funny I'm sure Jess can agree with that. I'm thinking about you all and wish I could take away the pain and heartache.
