“ while having a major life change, loosing family and friends and coming to a new state Barb hired me at the Veterans home. She was exciting and fun as we tried to bring something special to the patients at the home. We both ended up going our separate ways, part of me wanting to stay with her, but then thinking we could stay in touch. I had been looking for her since our last talk on the phone and I couldn't understand where she was. But, now I know all her sorrows are gone, all her tears are cleared and she is up there teasing the guys who liked giving her a hard time. You will always be dear to my heart. I deeply wish I could have been with you one more time before you went home. Love always- Tamra Reppert
