“ It's been a year and I still can't grasp life without my buddy since we were 12 and I moved to Lebanon from Ky. We talked nearly everyday for the last several years since he became really sick. He's my brother and my life will never be the same without him. I think about you everyday and when I run you're right there with me like you were 25 yrs ago when we ran together. So many times you guided me or listened to me. You're the reason I'm an OT, the reason I met my wife.... I hope I was half as supportive of you as you were of me. I pray you are happy and doing all of the things you dreamed of doing again when you got your new heart. I love you and miss you. You're always welcome to drop in and guide me or tell me a ridiculous joke like you always did. So many good times that I'll carry till we're together again. Rest in peace my friend. Len M

“ I remember Craig playing tennis for Lebanon with my son, Michael. When they weren't beating up on each other on a tennis court they were teamed up on the doubles court making life miserable for Lebanon's opponents. Craig and Mike could almost always be found on the tennis courts in the summertime. Mike said Craig's nickname was the "Assassin"!

“ Craig has been a constant in my life-- the goofy kid across the street from my grandma, the joker in class, the boyfriend then husband of my best friend for many years. But the role he loved playing the most was father to my two favorite boys, Noah and Drew. Prayers for all of you. I will miss Craig and all the laughs and interesting conversations we had by the tennis courts! Heaven got a really good one with Craig.

“ Craig was such a pleasure to know. He could always make me laugh, but I also learned a lot from him. He was a great mentor to me in my first job as an occupational therapist. I will always treasure our time fishing on the stream and the lessons he taught me there. He always had a unique perspective to life and I loved that about him. He was a loyal friend and I will sorely miss him. Ryan Lee

“ We are sorry for your loss. Craig left this world way too early. Noah and Drew you were the world for him. He always talked about the two of you. Craig was such a great person to work with and we learned a lot from him. He always made us and his patients laugh. We will miss you!

“ I am sorry sorry for your loss. Craig and I met at Ball State. We spent lots of time together in the library where he would make me laugh so hard we would be asked to move. He always saved me a seat in class and made time to help me study, such a great guy! He was so proud of his boys and talked about them often. Rest in peace Craig, I will never watch Seinfeld without thinking of you! Lois

“ It was an honor and a privilege to work alongside Craig for just over two years. His wit and intellect kept me entertained, and his obvious affection for his patients inspired me. He taught me more about the human hand, the central nervous system, and bow hunting than any person I've ever known (although, to be honest, I was pretty much starting from zero on the bow hunting thing). Be at peace, friend, and know that you have made a difference.

“ I am shocked to hear this news. I used to work with Craig many years ago up in Lafayette- he was quite the character and made his patients at the Indiana State Veterans' Home as well as the outpatient clinic (Lafayette Rehabilitation Services) laugh, not to mention his co-workers. His dry, sarcastic humor and his witty, sometimes off-the-wall comments would make our days anything but boring. He was a great OT. Sending prayers for his family. Rest in peace, Craig.

“ Craig was my Brother. Since we were 4 years old we were together. I can't even start to share all the 40+years of memories that flood my heart. I'll never forget you Brother. I've thought at least in passing about you pretty much every day since we were kids. I can't believe you're gone and it breaks my heart. I'll see you again someday Brother and we'll go hunting and fishing again like we have 100's of times before. If you don't have too much to do up there, come find me every now and then. I'm sure I'll know you're there. Love You Brother.
