“ After Tim's funeral, Dale and Diane had all the plants brought to their house. They let everyone come over to pick out what plants to take back home. They let me, Rob and our 2 squirrely girls hang out and talk for a little while, and they weren't even upset when Olivia found some pennies and asked to keep them (we snuck the pennies back to them when the girls weren't looking!). I just remember how patient and kind Dale was during that time. He was that way in every single interaction I've ever had with him. Just a truly great guy.
