“ You were the strongest person i knew. to me, you were indestructible. you were superhuman. you are my Dad. i miss you all the time pops. im trying to keep my composure together in front of others and i know your strength is getting me through that because i couldnt have done that on my own. i think about all of our talks, lessons you taught me and the silly things we would joke about and laugh at. i will forever miss our car talks. how you would tell me what it was like growing up in the 70s and the cars you would tell me about. i miss you dad. you are my idol, my hero, my mentor and my best friend. until we meet again big guy.
