“ Joe and I use to play together in our basement. Sometimes we played house and some times Cowboys. We use to steal crackers, chesse, ceael extra from the kitchen. Joe mix a much of this stuff together with water and eat it! He tried to get me to eat it too.....Yuck!!!! Anther time we were playing Cowboys, Joe was the gunfighter and I was the Sheriff. I had to arrest and jail the gunfighter! The jail cell was an old coffee table set up on its end. I put Joe in the cell, between the top and the supports. He got to squirming aroud and the table fell foreword. He hit his forehead on the supports recivcing quite to goose egg on his forehead. I felt bad about that fore a long time.

“ Joe, and I were never close when we were young, and growing up together. We had our disputes as brother's do. However as the years went by we became closer through many years of camping together. We spent hours together after the sun went down sitting by the camp fire with a beer in hand swapping stories. We spent the day on a lake sitting in a small aluminum fishing boat with a beer in one hand, and a fishing pole in the other. We never seemed to catch much in the way of fish, but all those hours spent together made us more than brother's they made us friends. I will miss you being here...I will never forget you.

“ Joe was about 12 when I met him for the first time. He was such a handsome young man with that red hair. Easy going with a smile on his face. Fast forward nearly 50 years and I can't believe he's gone. Thinking of the family and so sorry for your loss.
