“ Judy was one of the most special people in my life, we moved in next door to her and the 2 youngest boys in 2016, we didn't really get to know each other right away, but we became close friends as the years went by. She and I enjoyed lots of memories in such a short time as well as lots of late night talks, she would always tell me that if she saw our kitchen light on she knew I was up and we would talk until the sun came up the next day, those talks were how she and I got to become so close together, we loved to garage sale, Goodwill shop, craft together and sit on our front porch and just giggle. She loved the simple things in life, she didn't need expensive items or baubles, she loved her children with all her soul and she would give a stranger the shirt off her back if they needed it. I love her dearly and will never forget her or the impression she left on my life, my soul and my mind. There is a song by Bobby Sherman {yes, I'm that old} and the title is Julie do you love me, I would sing the chorus and change the words just a little and it went like this: Judy, Judy, Judy do you love me? Judy, Judy, Judy do you care? Judy, Judy, Judy are you thinking of me? Judy, Judy will you still be there? She loved it when I would be silly and sing and she always answered yes. Judy was the first friend that ever said she loved me and it felt really weird, but now I say it to all my family and friends and we all respond with a reply of the same. I do have photos I can share in the future. My most favorite memory is our trip to Angola, IN for the Hippie Fest, she made an amazing hippie and everyone at the festival wanted to have their photo with her!
R.I.P. my best friend
Keep my spot open next door in heaven!

I have had a few friends mention remembering her from the Danville Pizza Hut. Her customers adored her. She was amazing at running an entire dining room by herself during a lunch rush day in and day out. Judy will be missed by so many.
