“ Like many others, I met Judy thru the Mississippi Quilt Association many years ago. She would always tell people that she had adopted me. And she did! I was new to Mississippi and was alone at the MQA meetings. She introduced herself and her many friends. A few years ago one of the MQA meetings was in Meridian and I was not planning to go. But Judy called and invited me to stay with her and come to the meeting. Judy welcomed me with an open heart, open arms and an open home. She always sent Christmas and birthday cards. Such a dear sweet lady - I will miss her.

“ I took my first quilt lesson in 1997. Not long after, the MS MQA was having a meeting in Newton County. I went to the meeting not knowing what to expect. I sat by myself and listened to the various speakers as they shared their stories and displayed their quilts. When the program was near an end a lady came to me with a big smile on her face and introduced herself as Judy Hines. She told me about the MQA and introduced me to several of the ladies and encouraged me to join their Guild as well as the Meridian Guild. Judy's kindness that day is something I've never forgotten. She's also the reason I joined both guilds.

Judy was a beautiful person, inside and out. Her smile was legendary, I don't think I ever saw her without one, even when she was struggling with her diagnosis. A courageous woman and a friend I shall miss.

“ As a shy, somewhat quiet person, I was the friend who walked in her shadow....and, oh what a shadow to follow! Judy, somewhat, took me under her wing & we shared a lot of life together over 25+ years. She was so very social and I was so very awkward!!! We couldn't go anywhere without her knowing someone or her getting to know someone before we left. We once walked in our neighborhood to get exercise...stopping after realizing that, between our slow pace & stopping to chat with neighbors, we accomplished little except making me late for work!!! But that was Judy - always stopping and taking time with people, being interested in their lives and genuinely caring about them. Judy was my best friend, my "big Sis," & often times even the Mother figure that had been missing in my life. She made me a better person for having known her. Judy loved her children, her grandchildren, & all her family & many friends, but especially Ray, who she is with now. That comforts me, but please know that she is sadly missed...

“ I am cutie with one of the kindest and upbeat person I have ever known. And even though I am in my 60s she would without bail send me a Christmas card and always a birthday card, something that I always look forward to because I knew that she loved me. My only negative memory of Judy kids when I was 14 years old and she come pulling up in front of my cousins house and me like a fool went running for the car and she ran over the side of my foot. Judy I already miss you, but I know you're now with uncle Ray and our glorious Lord. Once again we will get together at our next family reunion in heaven.
I love you,
Rick
