“ LaDonna, what can I say? You helped me learn when I was first in Inbound at Amazon and now you are helping me learn about life. I would say to anyone who knew you to not take one single moment for granted. No one knows how long we have on this earth so might as well live your life to the fullest. I miss your smile and your sense of humor very much. Goodbye my friend and rest well.

“ In such a very short time you came to mean so much to me and I looked forward to chatting every time we had the opportunity. You were the best friend I have ever had, in so many ways. You are such a beautiful soul, and it was impossible not to love you. I hope that you're in a beautiful place with your cows and...peace. We'll hunt down David Visentin when I get there! I love you, Lady.
