“ My "Little Sister" and friend since the age of 4 yrs old is gone too soon. She was always full of love and joy when most would find it hard to be. She wanted nothing but the best for everyone! I met up with Lindsay Marie Moffitt Landon in Zionsville after my father's funeral a couple months ago and we had a very lengthy conversation in my car reminiscing about our childhood together and life. She said something that I will never forget! She said... Mike, life has slapped me in the face with reality more than I can count and even though most people see me as a failure, I am a child of God regardless. She knew that no matter the wrongs she had done and paths she had taken, God always had her back and would guide her through the lessons she was meant to learn. Lindsay strived to better herself daily and was open about her struggles with Addiction if it could help someone else make a different choice. She tried to not judge others and when people were talking horribly about her, throwing shade all over and trying to push her down further than she already felt...she kept a smile on her face, and prayed for them. That is strength! She will be missed by many, but especially by Samantha Rader and I. I will definitely miss thoss "I Love You" messages and random Skype calls from her. One thing I know for certain is that her faith was strong and she is in the arms of Jesus, addiction free! I am thankful to have known the best side of Lindsay and proud to have called her my "little sister".
