“ This is a beautiful picture of Marty. When St Elizabeth School of Nursing had their list of perspective students in 1966, Marty and I were assigned to be roommates. This was the beginning of our lasting friendship. She was proud we were both 'farmers daughters'. I felt like a member of her family when I visited their farm. She watched over her sisters, brother, nieces and nephews. She loved cooking for her family and friends. It was how she showed her love for us. Her home made noodles and chicken were the best. Sharing her knowlege of cooking brings a funny memory. Melody, a nursing classmate, was in the school kitchen boiling peas. Marty yelled " Don't ever boil peas". Melody and I were afraid the kitchen would burst into flames if peas were boiled.

She was active in preparing for our nursing class reunions. Thank you for all these memories. I miss you .I'm thankful you included me in these years of friendship, right to your last days.

Marty shared with me her love of fishing with her husband Louis. I know this is a difficult time for you Louis. You're in my prayers.

After attending Mass this morning and lighting a candle for Marty and Louis I saw a beautiful rainbow in the Arizona sky after a heavy rain. To me it was affirmation Marty is in heaven, at peace, free of cancer.

“ So sorry to hear of the loss of a great nurse and co-worker at University Hospital, Indianapolis. Many a time she would call me to see if I wanted to pick up extra hours. Will miss her at our dinners twice yearly with her sweet smile and loving happy disposition. God give her peace and love in His dear arms and comfort you now. She will be missed. . . Mary McVay

“My sympathy to you Louis and all Marty's family. I sat next to Marty in many nursing classes Endres - Faker. We have always had a very good relationship and great respect for each other. When my first daughter was born at St Elizabeth, she only weighed 4 pounds 10 ounces. I was very nervous. Marty came over after work from Home Hospital. She looked Nikki over and said "She's little but she is going to be just fine." I am sure she never knew how much I appreciated her coming over to relieve my stress. I am very sorry for her long term suffering. Dianne Faker Hollerman

My thoughts and prayers are with Louis and Marty's family. Marty was a close, genuine friend of mine. She treated me like her family. She was one of my mentors, as I started my nursing career on 2 South-Mother/Baby at IU Hospital. Just in my twenties with no family living nearby, Marty took me under her wing. Our IU Hospital family spent holidays at work, we shared our life events together, and a whole list of memorable accounts in the past 30 years. Marty attended my wedding, and made a special Christening dress for my first born daughter which won Marty a first place prize in the county fair! We shared a love of food and gardening. I last saw her in the summer, as she invited me to supper with our dear friend Rita. I pray God is keeping watch over my dear friend in heaven 🙏😊

“ I remember Martha as the older cousin at St. Joe. Mike and I were in the same grade. Martha was always so friendly and even though you might not have seen her for years it was like we'd seen each other yesterday.
The family is in my prayers.

“ I remember often being seated next to Martha in class (Eastwood...Endres). She became a good friend. May God wrap His arms around Louis and Rosemary and give them comfort and peace.

“Marty had many good friends in all areas of the medical field, and among former patients. She was quite the talker, always eager to make new friends, and always cherishing long-standing ones. Among the latter were a group of her nursing school classmates who met regularly to celebrate old times and “new news.” Marty loved to talk. She loved shopping, and could never turn down a good pair of shoes. She loved many other things too: sewing; traveling; family history; cooking; and her dogs. She loved St. Joseph’s Catholic Church of Lebanon, Indiana. It pained her when she became too ill to attend. She loved her nieces (Collette, Miranda, and Christina) and nephews (Phillip, Martin), great-nieces (Lucia, Eliza, Tara, Anja) and great-nephews (Jesse, Conor, Vanion, Andrew, Ephrem, Lincoln). She was truly unique – authoritative at times (sometimes to a fault), but also loving and extremely supportive. Marty had many friends nearby and all over the United States, and will be truly missed by many.” - her husband, Louis

Sorry to hear losing one of my Thorntown High School friends. In the 1966 school year book she stated she wanted to become a nurse. It is wonderful that she accomplished her dream.
