Mauriece was known for his strong will and determination. He rarely asked for help, always insisting to do it himself. His legacy will live on through his children, grandchildren and great grandchildren.

“ We will miss John! I loved playing cards with him, and his wife, Nyla. John had a subtle sense of humor and we laughed a lot :) In the eight years they were married, I spent quite a bit of time with him. Seeing them both find love in their 80s was truly a blessing. He will be missed.
