

Susan P. Mason

March 20, 2015

Susan Piper Mason, Elston High School Class of 1963, departed this life on Friday, March 20, 2015. She was the daughter of Hershel and Helen Piper of Michigan City.

Susan was the co-owner and co-manager with her husband, Jon, of Masons Rare and Used Books, from 1985 to 2011 in Wabash, Chambersburg, Pa., and Lebanon.

Susan was a student of art and music history, and visited many museums throughout America and Europe. She attended college at Indiana University Bloomington, Manchester College, IU Kokomo and Wilson College. She was a violinist until the last years of her life, and preferred baroque and bluegrass. She read widely and was especially appreciative of biographies of Tudor and Stuart, England, as well as Inspector Wexford novels by Ruth Rendell.

Susan and Jon were married in 1985, and their melded family of four children had a tangled history.

If you would like to celebrate her new incarnation with her family and friends, you may visit her home at 730 E. Washington Street, Lebanon, for cheese, wine and her favorite carrot cake from 4 to 7 p.m. Friday, March 27.

Tribute Wall

“ Susan P. Mason

---

November 27, 2022 at 01:43 PM

“ Kerry Thomas purchased the Victorian Teacup Bouquet for the family of Susan P. Mason.

---

Kerry Thomas - March 26, 2015 at 06:09 PM