“ There's so much to remember about Tye. He's simply amazing. But one memory comes to mind from when he was about 12. I picked him up from school. He mentioned how he was listening to students go on and on about things going on in life. Tye's comment to me was....they don't get it. This life is literally going to amount to a blink of an eye when you consider eternity. He said ...they are missing the point and the thing that matters. He has had a grasp on what comes after this life and what really matters since he was very young. God was definitely with him. I'll love you forever son.....and I'll see you again.
